

Get Creative with Art Online for travellers who can't travel

Paddington Bear is famous for arriving at Paddington Station.

Many railway locations have sculptures which can be linked to the eight project themes. There is a great variety, celebratory, serious and sad. Visit them online and discover the back stories.

Themes (lead partner)	Suggested works of art
Love and Family (U.K.)	"The Meeting Place" , St Pancras, London. And look at the base!
Strength and Power (U.K.)	"Victory over blindness" , Manchester Piccadilly Harold Wilson, Huddersfield
Nature (Sw)	Lincolnshire Red cattle on the old line, Washingborough
Work* and Industry (Sw)	"Brick Train" , Darlington
Science and Technology (It)	Sir Nigel Gresley, King's Cross, London Isambard Kingdom Brunel, Bristol Temple Meads
Our World (It)	Thomas Cook, Leicester The Prestatyn Walker Armagh Railway Disaster
Freedom (Gr)	Great Western Railway War Memorial, Paddington "Bobby" , Wemyss Bay
Migrants and Refugees (Gr)	"Fur Das Kind" - Displaced" , Liverpool Street, London

*There is a wonderful London website with many statues of workers dependent on railways. Choose a favourite! <https://londonist.com/2015/04/a-working-class-statue-is-something-to-be>

This selection is from the British Isles, but it should be possible to follow the eight themes in other countries, either through sculptures or paintings.

<https://artshortlist.com/en/journal/article/10-paintings-that-pay-homage-to-the-train>

And then after trains, there could be boats and planes, and other transport. Good luck!

We look forward to seeing what online sources teachers and learners in any country can find and use